Acadian Adds David Kane as Portfolio Manager
Will focus on new ideas for alpha generation

Boston, MA, December 13, 2010 - Acadian Asset Management LLC, a firm specializing in active global and international equity investment as well as emerging debt, said that David Kane will join Acadian on January 3, 2011 as a Portfolio Manager and Investment Researcher, reporting to John Chisholm, Chief Investment Officer. Mr. Kane was previously Chief Executive Officer of Kane Capital Management, based in Cambridge, MA, where he managed global market-neutral quantitative equity portfolios.

According to Mr. Chisholm, Mr. Kane's research efforts will be directed towards the development of innovative and distinctive approaches to quantitative stock selection. "Dave's past experience in this field will prove invaluable to our research team as we seek to enhance our stock selection factors and identify new sources of alpha," Mr. Chisholm said.

Mr. Kane previously worked as a Portfolio Manager at Geode Capital Management LLC and served as an officer in the United States Marine Corps from 1988 to 1991. He received his BA in Philosophy and Economics at Williams College, and his Ph.D. in Political Economy and Government from Harvard University.

Acadian noted this is the third major appointment in recent months. On September 8 it announced that Joshua White would become part of its investment team as a Portfolio Manager and Researcher, joining from the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission. In November Christopher Tocco was appointed Vice President and Consultant Relations Officer. He previously worked at investment consulting firm Summit Strategies Group, Inc.

Churchill Franklin, Acadian's Chief Operating Officer, commented: "We continue to seek highly talented individuals who bring their particular specialties to the firm, whether in the investment field or other areas. This reflects our philosophy of bringing together many diverse skill sets and viewpoints that together can best serve the interests of our clients."
